

WELL no one really expected Austria to admit all those Ancona charges.

ANY news from the Balkans "crazier" than what we've had will have to go some.

FATE OF BRAVE SERBIAN ARMY NOW BUT MATTER OF HOURS

SITUATION OF BRITISH HOSPITAL SHIP ALLIED ARMY ADMITTED SERIOUS TODAY ANGLIA SUNK IN CHANNEL WITH 385 MEN ON BOARD

[By Evening Herald Leased Wire]
London, Nov. 17 (12:10 p. m.)—The British hospital ship Anglia was sunk by a mine in the English channel today. Three hundred men were saved out of a total of 385.

A Bohemian, secretary for the colonies, was asked in the house of commons today whether the government had received information concerning the report of the sinking of the Anglia.

"I am sorry I have no information which I can communicate to the house," he replied. "If I receive any later in the day I shall communicate it."

A statement issued by the official press bureau gave the news of the disaster. It said that of the thirteen officers and 372 men on board the Anglia 200 had been saved.

The Anglia was a merchantman which was taken over by the British admiralty after the war began and refitted as a hospital ship. She was commissioned in August of last year.

There are four British steamships named Anglia. The one converted into a hospital ship probably is the former London & North Western Railway company steamer of 1,862 tons gross, 182 feet long and was built in 1899 at Dumbarton.

At the time she was commissioned the Anglia was in charge of Commander Oscar V. de Saige, retired.

result states that the loss has been heavy. It seems certain that the differences are as great as ever between the two sides in their position and day by day.

With Kitchener and Bulwer in the hands of the invaders, the fate of Serbia would be sealed and the road to Monastir opened.

While the military situation is obscure, from the standpoint of the anti-Serbian side, the diplomatic phase of their near eastern venture is somewhat clearer. Thus, in a circular communication, the Foreign Office is seeking a solution of the problem which would be presented if a Greek army should take refuge on Serbian territory.

It is clear that the extreme pressure of bringing Constantinople's forces to bear on Greece, will give the basis upon which a slighty's detaining in home ports or a fleet of Greek merchantmen.

Along the eastern front, however, there is an anticipated struggle for the Stryi, where the Austrians and Germans seem important factors. Despatched reports merely of an American recognition of the claims of Bulgaria.

The hosts of Austro-Germans, marching southward, are sounding detachments ahead to forced marches on all available roads.

"Do not expect to find a second Belgium. Greece will not hesitate to permit passage by the enemy through her territory as she now permits ours. We must defend ourselves alone and unaided against the triple attack of the Germans, Bulgarians and Turks. The enemy's plan is being carried out and may be realized rapidly. The German fleet of submarines in the Mediterranean has just been quinted.

"To achieve nothing whereupon I am not absolutely sure. We must be prepared for any news, even the most unexpected and even that which seems the craziest. We must have reinforcements in large numbers at once or re-embark while there is yet time."

Today's War Summary

The advance of the Teutonic allies against the Serbians is not being appreciably retarded by the Serbian defense, Berlin announces.

Captures of more than 2,000 additional Serbians are reported.

A gloomy view of the situation as regards the allied expedition in the Balkans is drawn by the Paris Journal, who urges that reinforcements be sent in large numbers, or that the allied armies be re-embarked "while there is yet time."

Italy will send troops to join the allied armies at Saloni, according to Rome advice, preparations being now in progress for the dispatch of the Italian forces.

Twelve thousand Arabs have joined the British army in Mesopotamia and this army is said to have reached a point within a few miles of Bagdad, according to reports from German sources forwarded through The Hague.

Russian destroyers have bombarded German positions at Pernouff and nearby on the northern Caucaus coast. The German war office announced that otherwise the situation on the Russian front is unchanged.

Comparative quiet is reported by Berlin on the fronts in France and Belgium, only artillery exchanges and mining operations being mentioned.

The attitude of the Greek government toward the entente allies remains the chief point of interest in the Balkan situation. A late development reported is the desire of King Constantine, told by the Athens correspondent of the London News Agency, to see Earl Kitchener, the British war secretary, now in the Near East, and discuss the military situation with him.

The Greek attitude seems to be growing less uncompromising with regard to the course Greece should take in case the allied forces in Serbia were forced back into the Mediterranean by the Entente.

The latest figures received in New York place the number of saved at 200 out of 600 passengers and crew aboard the vessel.

A belated dispatch from Bucharest credits former Premier Carp with the statement made to a newspaper that Romania will enter the war on the side of Germany in December.

An important conference is taking place in Paris, whence members of the new British war council—Premier Asquith, A. J. Balfour, first lord of the admiralty, David Lloyd George, minister of munitions, and Sir Edward Grey, secretary of foreign affairs of the British cabinet, while the French participants were Premier Briand, A. J. Fallières, president of the admiralty, Denfert, Léon, George, minister of munitions, and Sir Edward Grey, secretary of foreign affairs of the British cabinet.

The four British ministers arriving in Paris were met by Premier Briand, who gave a luncheon and reception to their honor before the holding of the war council. This afternoon the British ministers had a conference at the admiralty. Tonight they will dine with President Briand and his colleagues to Paris to attend the inauguration of the meetings of the Anglo-French war council of which the premiers are to be the heads.

The fact that the premier is accompanied by naval and military advisers is an indication that wider cooperation of the staffs of the two nations also is about to be instituted as foreshadowed in the premier's speech.
